Return of Political Pensioners in the Bombay Presidency for 1873.

MEMORANDUM.

The pensions shown in the annexed Statement may be placed in four classes:—

I. Pensions granted in consequence of lapse or cession of territory.

II. Grants of pensionary and other allowances in conquered territory, (e.g., in the Deccan and Sind)—there being a special class of pensions in the Deccan known as "Surinjam" pensions.

III. For political or special services, transfers from other Presidencies, charitable allowances, &c.

IV. Payments made to heads of tribes (Aden, page 80).

2. The bulk of the pensioners are in the first two classes. The Aden payments may be considered special, as they are not ordinary pensions but stipends payable to the Heads or Chiefs of independent tribes during observance of treaty relations or generally during good behaviour. An abstract of the Deccan "Surinjam*" Rules will explain the principles observed in dealing with Surinjams held or claimed at the conquest of the Deccan in 1818 A.D. :—

i. All Surinjams granted prior to 1751 A.D.† form Class I., and are "hereditary in the fullest sense of the word."

ii. As the general rule, Surinjams granted between the years 1751 and 1796, form Class II., and are to be continued to two generations from the accession of the British Government in 1818, the first British grantee being considered the first and his lineal successor the second generation. After this the Surinjams are to be resumed and a pecuniary provision, equal to a moiety of the average annual net proceeds, is to be continued as a life grant to the next generation.

iii. Surinjams granted subsequent to 1796‡ form Class III., and are to be held by one British grantee only, a moiety of the net proceeds being continued as a life grant to his lineal heir.

iv. Exceptions may be made to Rules II. and III. where a Sunud can be produced of the time of the Peishwas, declaring the Surinjam to have been granted on hereditary tenure.

v. Adopted sons or collateral heirs have no right to succeed to a Surinjam: as a general rule even a Surinjam of Class I. lapses on failure of legitimate male issue; but in rare cases the indulgence is conceded.

vi. In some few cases, out of consideration to the former greatness of the family, or as a reward for past loyalty, or services rendered to the British Government, a deviation from Rules II., III. and V. has been authorized.

vii. A Surinjamdar cannot alienate any portion of his estate beyond the duration of his own title, and incumbents of estates granted by Government, as a provision for a family, are held incapable of charging their estates with debts beyond their own lives, whether their estates revert on their death to Government, or are continued to their heirs.

viii. Military Surinjams are not to be regarded as hereditary grants, unless special provision to that effect was made by the Honourable Mr. Elphinstone on the settlement of the Deccan.

* A Surinjam was land allotted in lieu of pay for military service, and might be either personal (Zat) or for the support of troops and maintenance of forts (Fouj).

† The period from which the commencement of the sovereignty of the Peishwa is considered to date.

‡ The date of accession of the last Peishwa.

ix. Surinjams granted subsequent to 1751, if granted in commutation of possessions held prior to that date, are to be continued on hereditary tenure.

x. Pensions granted in commutation of Surinjams are to follow the tenure on which the latter would have been now held, had they been continued after the deposal of the Peishwa.

3. In addition to the above, it may be noted that some of the pensions assigned at the settlement of the Deccan by the Honourable Mr. Elphinstone were in consideration of the fallen fortunes of the families of the grantees. In certain instances also these grantees had rendered services to the British Government.

Bombay Secretariat, Political Department, 28th March 1874.

N.B.—The names to which an asterisk is prefixed appear in the list for the first time (i.e., new pensions).

.....	1,920 0 0		29th June 1847.	This payment represents the amount of commutation paid to the Potnavese family on account of "Mokassa babs" (money-payments) from certain villages belonging to Government, the assignment having been made by the Rajas of Satara before 1751 A.D. The family also holds some villages on hereditary tenure granted by the Satara Rajas.
	1,440 0 0		9th July 1866.	Vide note to No. 5.
	7,195 8 0		10th October 1867.	This is a hereditary pension. The original Surinjam, in consideration of which the British Government granted a pension to the Mallegaumkur, was one of those known as "Chowth" Surinjams in the Nizam's Territory, lands in which had been assigned to the Peshwa under Treaty and which were transferred or ceded to the Nizam after the conquest of the Deccan from the Peshwa Bajeerao. The pension was declared hereditary by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India in 1867. A reduction of one-fourth (of the full pension of Rs. 9,594-0-0) being made at the present holder's death. The Mallegaumkur was one of the great Chiefs of the Deccan. He holds a Surinjam granted in 1719 A.D. by the Satara Rajas (i.e., before the usurpation of the Peshwa). And besides the pension granted in lieu of the holdings in the territory ceded to the Nizam he has inherited inams of some value. His possessions however are much reduced as compared with former times. Ruttonsing's grandfather was master of Ballajee, the first Peshwa. The family of Jadhowrao is most ancient and is thus described by Grant Duff: "The Principal Maratha Chief in the service of the Ahmednagar State was Jadhowrao Deshmook of Sindkheir, supposed with much probability to have been a descendant of the Raja of Deoghur (now Dowlutabad). No Maratha family was so powerful as the Jadhow. Lookjee Jadhowrao in the end of the 16th century held a Jagheer under the Nizam Shahee Government for the support of 10,000 horse."
.....	576 0 0		2nd February 1866.	Vide entry to Number 5 and 6.
.....	288 0 0		Hon'ble Court's Despatches of 1864 and 1865 Nos. 45 and 35.	The pension was assigned in lieu of a personal Jagheer held on the Peshwa's share of certain territory belonging to the Nizam, which territory was ceded to the Nizam after the conquest of the Deccan. Pensions granted for such Jagheers are known as Chowth pensions.
.....	288 0 0		2nd February 1866.	Vide note to preceding entry.
.....	192 0 0		2nd February 1866.
.....	144 0 0		9th December 1867.	This payment is a share of a hereditary pension granted in lieu of a Chowth or fourth share Surinjam held in Nizam's territory from the Peshwas, but which territory was transferred to the Nizam after the conquest of the Deccan.
.....	144 0 0		9th December 1867.
4,796 0 0	.....		2nd December 1819.	The pension was granted in lieu of personal Jagheer. The family held a high position under the Peshwas (vide Note to Number 30).
576 0 0	.....		1st January 1820.	In lieu of pecuniary allowances enjoyed by him from the Peshwa's Government
33 6 0	.....		22nd February 1821.	The pension was granted in lieu of personal Jagheer enjoyed from the Poona Government.
1,151 8 0	.....		16th October 1819.	The family was granted a pension in lieu of personal Jagheer enjoyed at the introduction of British Rule in the Deccan. The family appears to have been of considerable importance under the former Government.
1,000 0 0	.....		29th August 1848.	The pensioner is one of the Satara Jagheerdars. He held a pension of Rs. 4.796 of which the larger portion has since been exchanged for a Government village, the pension of Rs. 1,000 representing the balance.
212 11 8	.....		28th April 1854.	The pensioner's father held two villages in Surinjam which at his death were, in accordance with the rules, commuted into the present payment, the average annual value after deduction of charges for collection of revenue, &c. Half of pension continuable to the heir of present recipient.
.....	.....		13th December 1827.	The pensions held by this lady and the next name in the list (Silimbeebee) are in lieu of certain Inam villages held at the conquest of the Deccan by Amanutkhan, and which were made over to the British Government as that individual could not himself manage them. The Kuvee Jungs appear to have been originally servants of the Mogul Government. and in that capacity held the post of Killedar of the Fort of Ahmednagar, which was delivered up to the Peshwa by the then Killedar of the Fort. For this Service the Peshwa granted him the villages referred to on hereditary tenure.

...	...	13th December 1827.	Vide note to preceding entry.
...	...	16th August 1844.	The adoptive father of Luxmonrao (Sudasheo Mankeshwar) was the Peshwa's Minister and enjoyed considerable income from Surinjams, &c. These appear to have been continued by the Peshwa to the adopted son. At the accession of the British Government a Surinjam of about Rs. 30,000 was continued to Luxmonrao and he enjoyed it till his death without issue in 1843-44. The widow was then granted a pension of Rs. 3,000. The Peshwa's Surinjam to Sudasheo Mankeshwar was conferred in 1803 A.D.
...	...	28th May 1846.	The pensioner's father, Dorabjee Maneckjee, was a Banker at Poona under the Native Government, and towards the close of the Maratha war rendered very useful services to the British Government by advancing funds for the payment of the troops, war expenses, &c. Partly as a reward and partly as indemnification for the losses which Dorabjee had sustained in the service of Government, the pension, now enjoyed by his son, was conferred upon him.
...	...	27th July 1865.	Wishwasrao Rastia was a Sirdar of importance in Bajeerao's reign. Hence the pension to his widow on the lapse of the allowance granted to him—Vide Entry No. 144.
...	...	28th September 1866.	A dependant of the ex-Ameer of Sind, the late Atta Buksh Khan.
...	...	20th June 1866.	The pensioner belongs to a branch of the Angrias, Chiefs of Colaba, (near Bombay), which State lapsed in 1844 from failure of heirs. The pension was granted in consideration of the relationship as also on personal grounds, Jaising Rao having taken the degree of B.A. at the Bombay University.
...	...	1st June 1859.	The story of the pensioner's late husband is a remarkable one. He is believed to have been originally a Gossain or religious mendicant. His name was Chitorsing the name borne by a Prince of the Satara family, who, for reasons of State, was in close confinement. The Gossain gave himself out to be the Prince in 1812 A.D. and so far succeeded in his designs that large bodies of Ramoshees followed his fortunes, first in waging war against the Peshwa and afterwards against the British Government. After several years of rebellion he was eventually captured in a fort in the Satara District in June 1818. The real Chitorsing died in April 1818. The Gossain from the above year to his death in 1860 was with few and short intervals in prison. He died in the Poona Jail, whither he had been transferred in consequence of his attempting to intrigue during the disturbances of 1857-58. He was also for some years a prisoner at Allahabad.
...	...	8th October 1866.	The pension was granted in consequence of Hayatbeebee being widow of a Sind Ex-Ameer. The late Meer died at Poona, where he had been sent as a State Prisoner. Hayatbeebee is a native of Poona.
...	...	25th June 1866.	A dependant of the ex-Ameer of Sind, the late Atta Buksh Khan.
...	...	Ditto	Vide preceding Entry.
...	...	9th January 1869.	The family of Koonjeer appears to have been of consideration under the Peshwas from whom they obtained Surinjamee grants. These were continued at the accession of the British Government, but on the death of the then holder a pension was granted in lieu of these holdings in shares to the deceased's two sons. One of these was the father of Bugwuntrao now deceased, to whom a special pension was granted as he was not entitled to it under the Surinjam Rules. At his death the widow was granted a compassionate allowance.
...	...	31st March 1870. 10th May 1870	(See note to No. 30. Rakmabhaee widow of another member of the Dhumdherry family.)
...	...	3th December 1870.	The Sowkar held two villages from the Peshwa, which appear to have been continued to him for life by the British Government. At his death, about 1830, a pension was continued to his grandson, Nursingrao, who died recently leaving a widow to whom a pension of Rs. 120 has been granted.
...	...	26th January 1872.	The Dhumdherry family was one of considerable importance in the Deccan before the conquest. The grandfather of the late Pandoorang Ramchunder was father-in-law of Bajeerao Rughonath Peshwa, and held from the Poona Government extensive and valuable grants. A part of these holdings were continued by the British Government on its accession in the Deccan, pensions being subsequently granted to descendants of the first British grantees. Pandoorung Ramchunder Dhumdherry was one of these, and at his death in 1865 the pension of Rs. 240 was granted to Rukhmabaee, his widow.

...	...	21st May 1872.	This lady's late husband was son of a member of the Nawab of Savanoor's family (Dharwar Collectorate) named Abdool Feroze Khan. He was brought to Poona from Savanoor by Bajeerao Peshwa, and there maintained by that Prince. On the accession of the British Government Mr. Elphinstone assigned him a pension in consideration of the circumstances of his case and as a descendant of a once powerful family, the Nawabs of Savanoor. The present pensioner succeeded to a portion of her husbund's pension in consequence of his death in 1870.
...	...	5th January 1859.	The grandfather of the pensioner was the Moonshee of the British Residency of Poona. He appears to have held a Jagheer in the Nizam's territory which however was resumed. In consequence the Government of Bombay granted him holdings in British territory of the annual value of Rs. 10,000 for life. Subsequently a pension of Rs. 2,718 was continued to three grandsons, of whom is Mahomed Mobideen.
...	...	4th August 1834.	Jeevunrao Trimbuck enjoyed a pension of Rs. 1,200 granted by Mr. Elphinstone in lieu of personal Jagheer held from the Peshwa. At his death in 1834 his widow received her present pension.
...	...	6th April 1872.	The pensioner's husband's father was Venaik Moreshwur, known as Baba Phudkay. He rendered important services at Baroda, during the period of Colonel Outram's incumbency of the office of Resident at the Gaekwar's Court, for which services he received a pension of Rs. 300 per mensem, a palanqueen, &c.
...	...	23rd June 1823.	Vide notes to Nos. 10 & 30.
...	...	9th July 1824.	The original pension appears to have been Rs. 1,000, but the circumstances under which it was granted have not been traced.
...	...	10th October 1825.	The pensioner's father had assigned to him, after the conquest of the Deccan, an annual allowance of Rs. 1,000, of which at his death Rs. 400 were continued in equal shares to his four sons. The family seems to have been of standing at one time under the Native Government, as the grandfather of Luxmonrao had a service Surinjam of Rupees 20,000.
...	...	Ditto.	Vide remark to preceding entry.
...	...	5th July 1826.	The pension first granted was Rupees 1,200, but the circumstances of the grant have not been traced.
...	...	18th November 1826.	Vide Note to No. 12.
...	...	23rd December 1834.	This lady's husband appears at one time to have held a position as a Minister under the Peshwa's Government, and in lieu of the allowances attached to the office obtained a pension of Rs. 600 at the accession of the British Government.
...	...	27th March 1838.	Nurso Trimbuck received a pension of Rs. 1,000 granted by Mr. Elphinstone in lieu of a pecuniary allowance enjoyed from the Peshwa's Government. At his death the provision made at the time of grant was continued to his widows.
...	...	Ditto.	The pensioner's husband was granted a pension of Rs. 500 at the accession of the British Government in the Deccan in lieu of pecuniary allowances enjoyed from the Peshwa's Government.
...	...	22nd March 1841.	Chintamun Rao received a pension of Rs. 400 from the Hon'ble Mr. Elphinstone in lieu of occasional presents and charities given him by the Peshwa's Government. His occupation was that of priest. The pension of Rs. 96 was assigned for Luxoomibaee at the time of the grant of the pension.
...	...	28th June 1842.	This lady's husband enjoyed a pecuniary allowance from the Contingent of Horse maintained for the Peshwa's service by Visajee Punt, a Sirdar of the Deccan. At the conquest Mr. Elphinstone allowed him Rs. 2,000 in lieu of the payment from the Punt.
...	..	4th March 1843.	The Rahattaykur obtained from Mr. Elphinstone, at the settlement of the Deccan, Rs. 4,000 for life in lieu of a personal jagheer enjoyed from the Peshwa. Provision was at the same time made for his four wives receiving at his death Rupees 200 each annually.

...	...	31st October 1853.	The pensioner's husband enjoyed a pension of Rs. 2,400 granted by Mr. Elphinstone after the conquest of the Deccan, the present pension being at the same time assigned for the widow at Anundrao's death.
...	...	20th October 1853.	Bapoobhut was a dependant of Venaik Purushram, Dewan of Angria, Chief of Colaba. The Dewan obtained the British guarantee for certain grants from Angria which appears to have included one to Bapoobhut. At the lapse of the Colaba State the amount of assignment was continued.
...	...	20th October 1854.	The original pension amounted to Rs. 1,200, and was conferred by Mr. Elphinstone on Narrain Rao Konjeer in lieu of a personal Surinjam enjoyed by him from the Peshwa.
...	...	15th June 1859.	The family held under the Peshwas two villages. Before the war one of these had been resumed, and in lieu of it a money payment made. On the establishment of British rule however, Mr. Elphinstone, in consideration of the circumstances, granted to Bapoojee Oke, the representative of the family, a life-pension of Rs. 2,400. ...	...	23rd January 1860.	This payment is in lieu of a share in certain village allowances originally assigned on Surinjam tenure by the Peshwa's Government. The family holds also a small hereditary Surinjam granted before A. D. 1751.
...	...	7th May 1860.	Purushram Venaik enjoyed a share of a pension of Rs. 780 granted to the family in satisfaction of their claim to the village of Ghatowday in the Poona Collectorate. At his death in 1859 his widow was pensioned. The village of Ghatowday was a grant of somewhat ancient date, but having been attached by the Peshwa in 1812, the circumstance affected its continuance.
...	...	14th November 1857.	The pensioner's husband enjoyed a hereditary Surinjam under Mr. Elphinstone's settlement, but having no male issue it lapsed at his death. The present pension was sanctioned for the widow in consideration of the hereditary nature of the grant.

OF PENSION.		Orders of Government under which granted.	Brief sketch of the circumstances under which pension was granted, and any points of interest.
Two or more lives.	Perpetuity.

.....	.....	14th October 1864.	This lady's husband received Rs. 400 per annum in consideration of his being the son of Bapoo Sindé Killedar of the Fort of Dharwar. He died in 1848. His widow in 1864 was compelled by distressed circumstances to seek aid from Government which granted her Rs. 100 annually for life.
.....	.....	4th March 1865.	The deceased Chimonrao Vittul belonged to the house of Purundhurré and held a hereditary Surinjam of upwards of Rs. 5,000 in the Collectorates of Ahmadnagar and Poona, and in Nimar. He died in 1863 without male issue, and his holdings were resumed, pensions being assigned to his widow, mother, and daughter. By the death of Chimonrao a branch of the Purundhurré family became extinct.
.....	.....	18th March 1861.	The pensioner was a dependant of the late Chief of Kagwar in the Southern Maratha Country, whose estate lapsed in 1857 in consequence of the Chief having left no male issue. Yeshwuntrao rendered service to the Chief as a horseman.
.....	.....	7th July 1858.	Bapoojee Purundhurré held a share of a Surinjam village in the Khandesh Collectorate of the value of Rs. 105 which share lapsed at his death, a moiety being continued to his eldest son, the present pensioner.
.....	.....	22nd December 1858.	(Vide note to No. 110.)
.....	.....	26th September 1860.	The pension was granted as Radhabaee had no independent means of subsistence. Her husband received Rs. 200 per annum granted by the Raja of Satara in lieu of a resumed village. This pension lapsed at his death in 1858.
.....	.....	20th May 1856. 13th August 1849.	The payment is a share of a Surinjam pension granted on the lapse of two villages in the Ahmadnagar and Poona Collectorates. The villages were granted in 1768 and 1800 for services rendered in one of the Peshwa's campaigns against Hyder Ali in the Carnatic. It appears that the Peshwa's Army on this occasion had in it a large body of men bearing the surname of Nigdé, and of these 15 were killed and 40 wounded. Hence as reward the grant of the villages.
.....	.....	13th August 1849.	(Vide note to preceding entry.)

.....	.....	22nd May 1869.	This pension was granted under the Surinjam Rules in consequence of the lapse of two villages held in Surinjam by Moreshwur Dixit Munohir in the Khandesh Collectorate.
.....	.....	29th July 1870.	Yadhorao Deokatey received a pension of Rs. 600 after the establishment of British rule in the Deccan. He was a Sirdar and lost everything by the fall of the Peshwa from whom he appears to have held a personal Jagheer.
.....	.....	Transferred from Satara, G.R. No. 1188, dated 1st May 1872 and 11th November 1851.	The pension was granted by Purtabsing, Raja of Satara, in commutation of a Surinjam. On the lapse of the Satara State the payment was continued to the pensioner.
.....	.....	G. R. No. 5393, dated 6th November 1871.	This lady is the widow of Khunderao Rastia, to whom the Honourable the Court of Directors in 1852 made a grant of one-half (Rs. 20,000) of the personal Surinjam enjoyed by Bulwuntrao Rastia, who was the son of the first British grantee. Khunderao died in 1860 without issue. His widow has since been permitted to make a second adoption.
.....	.....		The family of Rastia held a position of influence at the Peshwa's Court as great Sirdars. During the reign of Bajeerao, the last Peshwa, one of them, Mahadeo Rao, served as a General of the Poona Government, and appears to have been able to bring into the field from 7 to 10,000 men. Another of the family, by name Khunderao, was for some years during the same period Sir Soobah or Governor of the Concan (the lowlands lying between the Ghauts and the Ocean), and in 1804 A.D., he rendered most important and opportune service to the Peshwa by obtaining the submission of the Household Troops who were in rebellion. Notwithstanding the services of the family, the Rastias seem to have been objects of disquietude to Bajeerao, who as occasion allowed deprived them of their great Surinjams and other holdings. The Duffleys of Juth (Satara) were Jagheerdars under the Rastias.

The village was continued to deceased in 1825 A.D. in consideration of his being an adherent of the Ex-Peshwa Bajeerao. It seems to have been first granted on the death in battle of the pensioner's grandfather.
			The surname Ghorepuré was acquired in old Maratha days at the capture of a hill fort in the Concan. A large lizard or "Ghorepud" was placed against the perpendicular wall of rock with a cord to the body. Ascending it took to the top the assailant who had thought of this method of capturing a place deemed impregnable. The man was known afterwards as the "Ghorepuré." The Moodhul, Chief in the Southern Marathas Country is the head of the family.

The Nawabs of Surat were Governors of the Moghal, and Surat was the head-quarters of the Imperial fleet. Relations with this part of Gujerat date from early times; and at Surat the British obtained many marks of favour from the Emperors of Delhi. Among these was the charge of the Castle of Surat and of the Fleet (1759. A. D.). The fleet before this period was commanded by the Hubshee or Abyssinian Chief of Junjira, and its duties were the protection of merchants, &c., on the high seas from Pirates and other rovers. The Pirates were chiefly Joasmees from the Persian Gulf, though Angria of Colaba and the Hubshee of Junjira sent out vessels. The City of Surat and its dependencies passed to the British in 1800 by Agreement with the Nuwab Nusser-ood-deen Khan.

Hussanbhaee died many years ago, but in 1834 the reigning Gaekwar discontinued an allowance of Rs. 200 per mensem, which appears to have been assigned to Hussanbhaee before 1809 A. D. for services rendered in the interests both of the Gaekwar and British Governments. Hence, when the pension was resumed, the British Government made provision for Hussanbhaee's family, also allowing arrears at the rate of Rs. 200 per mensem from 1834.

The troops employed eventually captured him, after dispersing his followers, and on conviction by a Special Commission he and other leaders were either executed, or transported. The families being destitute subsistence allowances were granted to them.

...	7,000 0 0	.....	The grandfather of the pensioner had considerable influence at the Gaekwar Court in the earlier period of British relations with Gujrat. Through his exertions chiefly the British obtained territory from the Gaekwar worth upwards of two lacs of rupees per annum in free gift. He also rendered important service in obtaining the quiet admission into the Portuguese territory of Goa, Damaun, and Diu of British troops at a time when the French had designs on these places, and when it was believed that Napoleon had supporters at Goa. For these services Mr. Duncan, Governor of Bombay, proposed the grant of a Jagheer; but while the matter was under consideration Sir Miguel himself requested that the grant might be commuted into a hereditary pension. The request was granted by the Honourable Court in 1814, and a pension of Rs. 7,000 per annum assigned in favour of Sir Miguel de Souza and his descendants. Sir Miguel was born before the middle of last century and died in 1808. The Knighthood was conferred by the King of Portugal, and appears to have been recognized by the British Government.

The turbulent and ambitious conduct of Canojee Rao, he having shortly after his father's death in 1800, usurped the entire powers of the Baroda State, induced the British Government to promise a pension to the Pundit in case he reclaimed the Chief from the line of conduct he was pursuing. In 1810, in accordance with this promise, a pension of Rs. 336 per mensem was conferred upon him with Rs. 100 per mensem to his heirs in perpetuity.

On his death a pension of Rs. 2,000 was continued to his eldest son Fyaz Ali Khan, the father of Huleema Begum. Fyaz Khan died in 1829, when Rs. 1,500 were granted to his son, Akbar Ali Khan. Akbar Ali died in 1856, and a pension of Rs. 750 was continued to his son Ahmed and others of the family. Bednore is in the Carnatic and fell to the British by the partition Treaty of 1799 after the extinction of the power of Tippoo Sultan. It was in consequence of Hyat Sahib's former position in the country (Manager on the part of Hyder Ali) as well as the services he rendered to the British officers that obtained for him the pension of Rs. 4,000.

On the accession of Mahomed Shah he opposed that Prince, but unsuccessfully, and had to take refuge within the Affghan border. This was in 1839-42, during the occupation of Candahar by the British. During his stay there Aga Khan rendered services to the Force; and on arrival in Sind, Sir Charles Napier (with Lord Ellenborough's authority) paid him an allowance of Rs. 1,000 monthly, which was subsequently continued by the Honourable the Court of Directors on political grounds. Aga Khan, who claims a direct descent from Ali, the nephew and son-in-law of Mahomed, is spiritual head of the "Khojas," a Mahomedan sect numerous in the Presidency and Sind, and in the dominions of the Sultan of Muscat. The foundation of the sect was laid by Pir Surdordin, a Missionary sent to India from Khorasan in the 16th century by Shah Islam, an ancestor of Agha Khan. The affix Mehelati used by Agha Khan is the name of a district in Persia long held by the family.

The pensioners belonged to the Raja's Cavalry.

...	3,000 0 0	G. L. No. 2480, dated 9th June 1860.	The pensioner's father, known as Raja Anundsing, was Chief of Akrani, a district in Khandesh, consisting of some 80 or 90 villages. During the incursions of the Marathas into Khandesh, Akrani suffered so severely as to reduce the Raja to great distress. In this emergency he sought the aid of the British Government, who advanced him in the first instance sums of money, and in 1820 A. D. on his surrendering the districts conferred on him a pension of Rs. 3,000 hereditarily.

RETURN OF POLITICAL PENSIONERS IN THE BOMBAY PRESIEDNCY FOR 1883.

MEMORANDUM.

The pensions shown in the annexed Statement may be placed in four classes :—

I. Pensions granted in consequence of lapse or cession of territory.

II. Grants of pensionary and other allowances in conquered territory (e.g., in the Deccan and Sind), there being a special class of pensions in the Deccan known as " Saranjám" Pensions.

III. For Political or special services, transfers from other Presidencies, charitable allowances, &c.

IV. Payments made to heads of tribes (Aden).

2. The bulk of the pensioners are in the first two classes. The Aden payments may be considered special, as they are not ordinary pensions but stipends payable to the Heads or Chiefs of independent tribes during observance of treaty relations or generally during good behaviour. An abstract of the Deccan " Saranjám *" Rules will explain the principles observed in dealing with Saranjáms held or claimed at the conquest of the Deccan in 1818 A.D. :—

i. All Saranjáms granted prior to 1751 A.D.† from class I., and are " hereditary in the fullest sense of the word."

ii. As the general rule, Saranjáms granted between the years 1751 and 1796, form Class II., and are to be continued to two generations from the accession of the British Government in 1818, the first British grantee being considered the first and his lineal successor the second generation. After this the Saranjáms are to be resumed and a pecuniary provision, equal to a moiety of the average annual net proceeds, is to be continued as a life grant to the next generation.

iii. Saranjáms granted subsequent to 1796‡ form Class III., and are to be held by one British grantee only, a moiety of the net proceeds being continued as a life grant to his lineal heir.

iv. Exceptions may be made to Rules II. and III. where a Sanad can be produced of the time of the Peishwas, declaring the Sanarjám to have been granted on hereditary tenure.

v. Adopted sons or collateral heirs have no right to succeed to a Saranjám : as a general rule even a Saranjám of Class I. lapses on failure of legitimate male issue; but in rare cases the indulgence is conceded.

vi. In some few cases, out of consideration to the former greatness of the family, or as a reward for past loyalty, or services rendered to the British Government, a deviation from Rules II., III., and V. has been authorized.

vii. A Saranjámdár cannot alienate any portion of his estate beyond the duration of his own title, and incumbents of estates granted by Government, as a provision for a family, are held incapable of charging their estates with debts beyond their own lives, whether their estates revert on their death to Government, or are continued to their heirs.

viii. Military Saranjáms are not be regarded as hereditary grants, unless special provision to that effect was made by the Honourable Mr. Elphinstone on the settlement of the Deccan.

ix. Saranjáms granted subsequent to 1751, if granted in commutation of possessions held prior to that date, are to be continued on hereditary tenure.

* A Saranjám was land allotted in lieu of pay for military service, and might be either personal (Zat) or for the support of troops and maintenance of forts (Fouj).

† The period from which the commencement of the sovereignty of the Peishwa is considered to date.

‡ The date of accession of the last Peishwa.

x. Pensions granted in commutation of Saranjáms are to follow the tenure on which the latter would have been now held, had they been continued after the deposal of the Peishwa.

3. In addition to the above, it may be noted that some of the pensions assigned at the settlement of the Deccan by the Honourable Mr. Elphinstone were in consideration of the fallen fortunes of the families of the grantees. In certain instances also these grantees had rendered services to the British Government.

Bombay Secretariat, Political Department, 1884.

N B.—The words "bin" or "walad" (Arabic) and "Kom" (Maráthi) signify "son" and "widow" respectively. New grants are shown in italics.

	...	Perpetuity.	.....	No. 2485, dated 1st June 1854, and G. R. No. 732, dated 12th February 1874.	The grandfather of the pensioner had considerable influence at the Gáikwár court in the earlier period of British relations with Gujarát. Through his exertions chiefly the British obtained territory from the Gáikwár worth upwards of two lacs of rupees per annum in free gift. He also rendered important service in obtaining the quiet admission into the Portuguese territory of Goa, Daman, and Diu of British troops at a time when the French had designs on these places, and when it was believed that Napoleon had supporters at Goa. For these services Mr. Duncan, Governor of Bombay, proposed the grant of a Jághír; but while the matter was under consideration, Sir Miguel himself requested that the grant might be commuted into a hereditary pension. The request was granted by the Honourable Court in 1814, and a pension of Rs. 7,000 per annum assigned in favour of Sir Miguel de Souza and his descendants.

The turbulent and ambitious conduct of Kanojeerao, he having shortly after his father's death in 1800 usurped the entire powers of the Baroda State induced the British Government to promise a pension to the Punálit in case he reclaimed the Chief from the line of conduct he was pursuing. In 1810, in accordance with this promise, a pension of Rs. 336 per mensem was conferred upon him with Rs. 100 per mensem to his heirs in perpetuity.

Families of 4 of the ring-leaders of the Náikda disturbance which broke out in the State of Nárukot in the beginning of 1868. The prime mover of the disturbance was Joria Kália, who pretended to be inspired by God, and, thus under the guise of a "Bhagat," made the Náikda and others of the neighbourhood his disciples, among whom was Rupsang Gobar, the Chief of the Náikdás, with his family. They then attacked the outpost at Jámbughoda, &c., and began to commit depradations. Regular troops were called out, and after one or two slight actions the rebels were dispersed and subdued. Joria Kália, Rupsang Gobar and Gumán Hari were tried, and on conviction the first two were sentenced to death and Gumán Hari to transportation for life. Wállurio Rupsang was killed in action. Their widow and children, being destitute, have been provided with pensions.

Karim Khán was a quiet, inoffensive individual, deaf and dumb, and was one of the first to make his salaams to the Governor of Sind.
